

TURNKEY FELLED; TWO PRISONERS ESCAPE BASTILE

Two Prisoners Held on Felony Charges Down Turnkey and Make Their Escape Through Clever Ruse—No Trace Is Found.

Ernest Jones and Albert Lewis, both felony prisoners having been held up on examination in lower courts for the March session of the Mason county grand jury, escaped from the Mason county jail at about 8 o'clock Saturday night by overpowering Turnkey John Howard through a clever ruse. Neither of the men have since been located nor has there been any clue to where they might be.

Since the last escape at the local jail, all prisoners have been locked at night in the "Bull Pen" on the second floor. Several months ago a number of prisoners escaped from this "Bull Pen" into the corridor and thence to the outside through a window. The iron bars in the "Bull Pen" which had been cut by the first lot of escaping prisoners had been repaired but the two men Saturday night, with the aid of saws had been enabled to again break out of the "Bull Pen" at exactly the same place the old escape had been made.

The prisoners then placed an envelope just inside the "Z" door and called to Turnkey Howard asking him to mail the letter. The turnkey, thinking the prisoners were all locked in the "Bull Pen," unlocked the main steel door and swung the "Z" door. Just as he stepped inside the jail and leaned over to pick up the letter, he was attacked by Jones and Lewis, who beat and choked him unconscious. They then ran into the office and into the jail yard making their escape.

Ernest Jones was held to the grand jury on a forgery charge. The lad has been in considerable trouble in both Kentucky and Ohio. The other prisoner, Albert Lewis, lived in the East End, he was recently arrested by C. & O. Detective Brown on a charge of cutting signal wires thus flagging freight trains and stealing coal therefrom. He was held for grand jury investigation.

COMPLIMENT FOR COL. RUSSELL AND BAND

Moving Picture Journal Pays High Tribute to Progressive Manager of Maysville Band and Musicians.

In the current issue of "Real Facts," a moving picture trade journal published at Cincinnati, there appears this very high compliment to our Boys' Band and its progressive manager:

"There is more in life than the mere accumulation of wealth, and a bad stomach and disposition. One of the men of this country, and one of the best known exhibitors in the territory served out of Cincinnati film exchanges, is such a man. He is none other than the genial good fellow, J. Barbour Russell, of Maysville, Kentucky.

"Mr. Russell is the manager of the Maysville Boys' Band. These fellows, whose picture accompany this story, have toured the country. They have been cheered by enthusiastic thousands everywhere they go. To the untiring energy of Mr. Russell much of their success is due.

"Let us say here that J. Barbour Russell does more than look after the Boys' Band in Maysville. Everything that has for the betterment of the townspeople, you will find him boosting into immediate success. He is pleasant, affable, a smile and a happy howdy do for everybody. Its infectious when you walk about the streets with him. Everybody bids him the glad good morning, and one realizes that life is worth while after all, if one only puts into life, as much as one expects to take out of it."

You will have to hurry to take advantage of the bargains at F. O. Barkley's Selling Out Sale. Only ten days longer. 4Feb22

CARDINAL RATTI ELECTED PONTIFF ON SEVENTH BALLOT

Newly Elected Pope Selects Name of PIUS XI. — Elected Cardinal in 1921.

Rome, Feb. 6.—Cardinal Ratti was elected pope on the seventh ballot of the Sacred College today.

He will assume the name of Pope Pius XI. The smoke signal from the Vatican this morning was white and shortly afterward it was announced that Achilleo Cardinal Ratti, an Italian, had been elected to succeed Benedict XV.

When the scrutiny of the ballots within the secret conclave in the Sistine Chapel showed this morning that the necessary majority of two-thirds had been received by Cardinal Ratti, the secretary of the conclave, the masters of ceremony and the sacristan of the Vatican were admitted to the chapel.

The cardinal deacon and heads of the other orders of cardinals presented themselves to Ratti and asked if he accepted the election. Receiving an affirmative reply, the white smoke signal, to tell the waiting throng outside the Vatican that a successor to Benedict XV had been chosen, was released and the canopies of all the other cardinals seated about the Sistine Chapel fell to the floor. Only the canopy of Ratti remained upright.

Ratti's election was not a surprise, although he was one of the newest cardinals, having been created in June, 1921, by the late Pope Benedict. The newly-elected cardinal was then asked what name he would take as pope and he replied: "Pius XI."

He gave his reasons for the selection and the priest who was attached to Cardinal Ratti was admitted to the conclave.

The secretary of the conclave and the priest then proceeded with the robing of the newly-elected pope. One of the three white robes which had been prepared for the ceremony was put upon Ratti, and the secretary of the conclave knelt and handed to him the white cap which designates him as supreme pontiff.

Thus attired the new pope returned to the chapel and ascended the temporary papal throne which had been prepared overlooking the seats of the cardinals. The first homage was paid to the new pope by the cardinals in order.

Cardinal Caspari, who as cardinal camerlengo had retained temporary papal authority, then was required to approach the throne and give to Pope Pius XI the ring of St. Peter, which will be turned over later to the prefect of the ceremonies to have Ratti's name inscribed upon it. The cardinals then returned to their cells to await formal announcement to the public of the election.

The head of the cardinal deacons appeared before the eager throng outside the Vatican, which was crowding forward to receive the first papal blessing and announced to the thousands swarming in the Piazza Di San Pietro the fact that a new pope had been elected. He gave Ratti's name as when the new pope was a cardinal.

GIRL FOUND ON STREETS AT EARLY HOUR HELD

Eighteen Year Old Girl Found Wandering on Local Streets at 2 a. m. Held By Officers for Relatives.

The local police have in charge an eighteen-year-old girl taken up on the streets at 2 a. m. Monday, who gives her name as Myrl Collins, and are at a loss just what is the best thing to do for her.

The girl says her home is in Baltimore, Md., and that she was for a time a chorus girl in a New York theater and known as Peggy La Monte. The young girl came to Maysville three weeks ago to visit relatives, she says.

Apparently the girl suffers from epileptic or some other sort of violent spells and while being detained in the office of the local jail Monday morning suffered several such spells. The girl is without funds and Chief Mackey proposes to care for her in some manner until he can hear from her mother, who lives in Hamilton, Ohio, and with whom the officer is now endeavoring to communicate by long distance telephone.

SQUIRE L. M. COLLIS IS CHOSEN COUNTY ROAD SUPERVISOR

Compromise Candidate For County Road Supervisor Is Unanimously Chosen By Commissioners At Special Meeting Monday.

'Squire L. M. Collis, of Orangeburg, one of the best known and most popular citizens of Mason county, was unanimously elected County Road Supervisor at a special meeting of the Mason Fiscal Court held at the court house Monday afternoon.

For several weeks the Fiscal Court has been deadlocked on the selection of a Road Supervisor, County Judge Purnell having nominated Mr. R. L. Simons, present supervisor, and the Commissioners refusing to elect. The Commissioners suggested Mr. Joseph Williams and Judge Purnell refused to nominate him.

As a compromise 'Squire Collis was accepted and a more popular selection could not have been made. Besides being a practical engineer and a former influential member of the Fiscal Court, 'Squire Collis has had much experience in road building and has been very successful. The citizens of the county will applaud the action of the court in selecting an efficient man and one in whom the whole county has confidence.

INSANITY STOPS PROSECUTION OF HUSBAND SLAYER

Mrs. Osa DeMoss, Former Resident of Flemingsburg, Who Slew Her Husband, Found Insane and Sent To Ohio Asylum.

The Cincinnati Enquirer says: There was a distressing scene in Probate Judge William M. Leuders' Court Saturday, when Mrs. Osa DeMoss, 42 years old, was committed to Lima State Hospital for the Criminal Insane, her only child, a son, Everett DeMoss, virtually refused to recognize her, declaring: "I love her, and it's a hard thing to do, but she took from me the best friend I had."

Mrs. DeMoss shot and killed her husband, Charles DeMoss, in their home at 421 East Third street, December 19 last. She fired six bullets into the back of his neck, from a revolver, which, she said yesterday, she bought a year ago and had carried constantly concealed in her apron pocket, since then. Mrs. DeMoss has been confined in hospitals for the insane four times, twice at the Kentucky State Hospital, and twice at the State Hospital at Dayton, Ohio. Her son said his father had taken her from the Dayton hospital against his advice and the advice of others.

When questioned by Judge Leuders and court alienists, Mrs. DeMoss expressed no remorse for her act. She said her husband had threatened to kill her and on the night she killed him, he had said, "I might as well finish you now," so she shot and killed him. She had purchased the revolver or just such an occasion, she said. Asked if she was sorry and wanted him back, she said she would like to have him back if he would treat her right, but if he threatened her she would do as she had done.

To her son she said: "Whatever you do, don't believe everything you hear about me."

Court alienists stated that Mrs. DeMoss is a paranoic, and if this condition is due to alcoholism, as her history shows may be the case, she will recover in time. Should she recover, he will be held for the Hamilton county authorities, but probably never will be called to account for the murder of her husband, alienists declare she was insane at the time.

QUIET IN NEWPORT AS TROOPS PATROL STREETS

Colonel Denhardt In Control Says He Has No Apologies to Make For Action of His Troops.

"We propose to restore law and order in Newport, and shall use as much force as necessary to overthrow forces of lawlessness. I have no apologies to offer for conduct of my men."

Colonel H. H. Denhardt, commanding national guardsmen in Newport, thus answered innumerable protests being raised by citizens and various officials of Newport Monday, following clashes between state troops and strike sympathizers Saturday and Sunday — the most serious outbreaks since the strike at the Newport rolling mills began several months ago.

Streets in the strike zone were almost completely deserted by civilians Monday.

Only a few pedestrians moved about the district. Those who did, were ordered to "keep your hands out of your pockets" by soldier patrols.

Guardsmen on patrol duty were ready to jump into action instantly. Guns were carried cocked, with only safety catches on. Infantrymen walked the streets singly and in groups. Troops of cavalry also scouted about the district.

FIVE TREATIES ARE SIGNED.

Washington, Feb. 6. — Five treaties, the products of the Washington Arms Conference, were signed today with a sober simplicity typically American.

In the stately D. A. R. Hall, beneath the varied-colored banners of nine nations represented here, occurred the ceremony which crowned three months of arduous labor — marked with more fruitful results toward peace than centuries of dreaming after such achievements.

LARGE PART OF THE BURLEY CROP REPORTED SOLD

President Stone Admits Facts and Says the Price Is Satisfactory But Withholds Details of the Transaction.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 6. — A large portion of the approximately 200,000,000 pounds of burley tobacco controlled by the Burley Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association has been sold "at very satisfactory prices," and prospects are bright for the early sale of the remainder, James C. Stone, vice-president and general manager, announced Saturday.

Mr. Stone declined to state how much of the crop has been sold or at what prices, saying he was "not able to make an intelligent report" at that time on the quantity, price, or the buyers.

The leaf thus far sold has been to several buyers, Mr. Stone said, and much of it was in winter order. "We are very optimistic over prospects for the sale of the entire crop seen, with most of it in winter order," Mr. Stone said. Winter order is tobacco in loose-leaf form. Sale in winter order means that the redrying process is in the hands of the buyer.

Twenty million pounds of the pool tobacco has been sold for an average of between 20 and 30 cents to the Liggett and Myers Company, according to well founded reports Saturday. Ralph M. Barker, director of warehouses for the co-operative association, said Saturday that the Liggett and Myers Company was one of the purchasers, but declined to state the amount bought or the figure paid.

James Pryor, local manager for Liggett and Myers, declined to make a statement with reference to the report, which came originally from one of the officials of the pool.

Approximately one million pounds of pooled leaf already has been redried by the plants under contract

SENATE BOOM FOR DR. GANFIELD.

When Senator La Follette scans the features of his opponent next fall, he may find he is confronted by a college president and former professor of history and economics, who at a date still earlier was a Presbyterian pastor.

The only man in the state who answers this description in every particular is President W. A. Ganfield of Carroll College, Waukesha, and he it is who may toss his scholarly hat into the ring, according to information that is looked on as unusually trustworthy here.

The combination of qualities President Ganfield will bring into the campaign, should he decide to enter the contest, is unusual. In his long political career Senator La Follette has never had to go up against anything exactly like it. On several occasions Senator La Follette has taken the measure of some fellow practitioner in law, but he never match with an authority on history, economics, theology and other subjects with which President Ganfield is conversant.

Until last year Dr. Ganfield was president of Centre College, Kentucky, the little Blue Grass school whose football team downed mighty Harvard and some other big fellows of the same class. The upbuilding of Centre and the team work and pep it put into its student body are largely attributed to the dynamic personality of Dr. Ganfield during the four years he was at the head of the institution.

Dr. Ganfield went to Centre from the chair of history and economics at Carroll, which he had held since 1907. His success as an administrator made the trustees of Carroll eager to get him back. Previous to 1907, he was a Presbyterian pastor at Green Bay.

As a speaker Dr. Ganfield is forceful, concise and logical. Those who have heard him express no doubt of his ability to best Champion Bob on the stump.—Milwaukee Journal.

THE STATE POLICE BILL.

Arch Hamilton of Lexington, who has developed into one of the ablest representatives in the Kentucky house, has introduced the proposed state police bill. The Interior Journal would like to see that bill enacted into law for two good reasons and maybe more, but these two are sufficient for present considerations:

1. State police would not be needed if local officials would enforce the laws or if grand juries would do their duty and indict them for failing to do so.

2. Even if sheriffs did do their duty uniformly all over the state, they would not have enough force in cases of emergency to handle an emergency. The average sheriff having only enough deputies to transact the ordinary routine of his office.

Aside from these two reasons, good enough for us, there is the record of the state police in other states. It is one of successful pursuit and punishment of criminals wherever it is a part of the peace system of the state, of duty well done, of persistence in following the evil-doer, and of better peace conditions generally than in states which have no such force.

The only objection the Interior Journal has to the bill is the size of the salaries proposed. We do not believe the best men for that kind of work can be obtained for the salaries, the men in the ranks being given only $1,000 a year, lieutenants $2,000 and captains $2,400. The number of men is left to the discretion of the superintendent, or chief, whose salary is not fixed by the act and who is allowed a deputy. None of the force may be removed except upon charges preferred and sustained before the governor.

The probable cost is indicated by the fact that $225,000 is appropriated from the general fund for the next two years, or $112,500 a year. It comes fairly high, but if the new state police force can restore order and respect for law in those sections of Kentucky which need it most, it will be well worth the money.—Stanford Interior Journal.

A MINISTER WITH SENSE.

We have had occasion before to mention Rev. Earl A. Blackman, pastor of the First Christian church of Chanute, Kan. The American Legion recently paid him the honor of naming him national chaplain because he was a man's man. If the majority of this fighting bunch who sent Kaiser Bill "over the hill" had their choice as to who should lead them into the promised Kingdom, it would require no seer to pick between Rev. Mr. Blackman and Dr. Wilbur Craft. This is what that square-jawed man of God has to say about reform laws: "I think it is utterly foolish and stupid to try to pass laws compelling people to restrain from doing specific things. To my mind the advocacy of such laws serves only to cheapen religion in the minds of the masses and tends to push it back into the superstitions of the past. It is a chap and indolent way of grappling with these complex social problems. It demands our greatest sincerity and consecrated efforts for their solution, instead of passing restricting laws in the hope of solving the problem by doing away with it." The author of that statement earned the sobriquet of "the fighting parson of the A. E. F.," rigged up a gymnasium in the basement of his church to give the boys lessons in boxing, referees boxing bouts and favors dancing, yet the membership in his church has heavily increased. The attendance has jumped mightily, he has made religion popular in Chanute while other ministers are bewailing the lack of religion in the country, and he recently refused an offer of $10,000 a year to go to another church in a large city. The moral speaks for itself.—Exchange.

AN APPENDIX

The Genoa conference will emulate the Washington meeting, but, what ever may be its successes, it can scarcely render such services to civilization as those recorded at the parley called by President Harding.

There will be a trade opening in Canada for American window glass, according to a report received from the American consul at Kingston. The chief source of supply has been from Belgium, but owing to the closing down of many glass plants in that country, strikes, lockouts and labor troubles, it will be a month or more before exports from Belgium are within normal capacity. An imported states that if American manufacturers wish to compete with Belgian glass, their prices will have to be reduced, which, with the present high rate of exchange as well as tariff rate, makes it almost impossible to purchase here.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, D. C. — General Sawyer, the chairman of the Federal Board of Hospitalization, reports that there are now in Government hospitals 22,440 World War veterans, while 9,066 are being cared for in contract hospitals. New hospitals are under construction that will have a capacity of 7,592 beds, available in a few months, and plans are being made for hospitals with 2,500 more beds under the so-called Langley bill recently passed by Congress. When the hospital building program is completed the Government will be caring for more than 32,000 invalid soldiers in its own institutions. Gen. Sawyer declares the board will adopt regulations providing for 182 employees for every 200 patients. The fact is that Congress and the Government have hesitated at no expenditure that would bring needed relief to the veterans, but every appropriation has been made after intelligent investigation and report by competent officials of the Government and of the American Legion.

In order to get the viewpoint of the men who attend the citizens' military training camps in the summer, a questionnaire has been sent to each of the 800 young men enrolled at the Plattsburg camp last year. More than 600 of them announced their intention to enroll again this year, and about 400 intend to join the National Guard or the Organized Reserves. Practically every member of the camp reported that he considered the experience enjoyable and profitable, only six stating that they had lost their interest in military affairs. Probably a similar report could be gathered from those who have attended other camps throughout the country. This year it is the intention of the War Department to open the camps on a larger scale than ever, and all able-bodied young men who can spare the time should arrange to become members.

The State Department is taking steps to simplify and so far as possible to remove passport restrictions, and it seems probable that the passport fee will be materially reduced. It is $10 at present. Heretofore it has been a regulation that an applicant for passport would have to certify that he had paid his income tax before he would be permitted to embark. It is reported that the State Department has notified the Treasury Department that it can no longer comply with this request. Furthermore it is likely that the present regulation which requires the applicant to prove the object of his business mission will be abandoned, since it is not considered necessary. Cases of hard feeling have been reported recently because tourists on some of the Atlantic liners have been compelled to pay from $50 to $75 to cover the cost of passports and visas. The State Department proposes to cut out all the red tape which has Waiting doesn't pay. If you neglect kidney backache, urinary troubles often follow. Doan's Kidney Pills are for kidney backache, and for other kidney ills. Ask your neighbor.

Maysville citizens endorse them. Ben P. Fleming, country Constable, 228 Limestone street, Maysville, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for several years when I have needed them. I always get Doan's at Wood & Son's drug store. I have been greatly benefited by them. At times my kidneys get out of order and I suffer with a dull constant ache through the small of my back and the kidney secretions are irregular in passage. A box or so of Doan's have never failed to relieve the trouble in a short time."

The above statement was given November 14, 1916, and on November 22, 1920, Mr. Fleming added: "I am glad to renew the statement I gave for publication some years ago as the cure Doan's Kidney Pills made for me is still permanent. I confirm my former statement in every detail as it was all true."

AGRICULTURAL STUDY COURSES PREPARED FOR RURAL SCHOOLS

State departments of education desiring to introduce agricultural courses of study into elementary schools are taking advantage of the assistance given by Federal and state authorities in the preparation of suitable courses. The Office of Agricultural Instruction of the United States Department of Agriculture, in co-operation with the various state departments of education and state agricultural colleges, has prepared outline courses for Ohio, Wisconsin, Maryland, Virginia, Arkansas, and North Carolina, and has a similar course under preparation for Oklahoma. The aim of such courses is to assist the teacher of agriculture in presenting the subject matter to the school pupils. They are used as seasonal guides in connection with bulletins and other material now employed in teaching agriculture in the elementary schools.

Each state manual contemplates a two-year course in Agricultural Instruction. In each case topics are intended to be seasonal, permitting application and observational study; local, adapted to state and community needs; and individual, encouraging personal work. Home project work is introduced wherever feasible, and it is suggested that the pupil carry one plant and one animal project each year.

A pioneer in a new type of boys' and girls' clubs has been in operation for the last eight months in Salisbury, Litchfield county, Conn. It is called the "Normal Weight Club" and is under the supervision of the state nutrition specialist and the assistant state club leader of the state agricultural college and the United States Department of Agriculture. The local leader is an older club member.

The object of the club is to bring the 24 members, who are girls ranging in age from 9 to 15 years, up to normal weight by correct food and health habits. At a monthly meeting of the club each member is weighed in the presence of the others, gains or losses are noted.

Hugo Ballin has completed "The Luxury Tax," an original story by Ethel Donohoe, for Hodkinson, Mabel Ballin, Raymond Bloomer and Crawford Kent are the principals.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeannie Price

New York. — How would you like to buy a nice, tasty, nourishing beefsteak, made out of inexpensive things like alf? Some day you will do just that, according to predictions of present-day chemists. Indeed, the materials and apparatus have already been assembled in New York City for a very practical and scientific series of experiments for the production of synthetic protein for human consumption. Robert J. J. Moore, B. S., M. A., until recently of the department of chemistry of Columbia University, is in charge of this momentous enterprise, and as he has already succeeded in changing petroleum into "animal" fats, it is more than a dream with him.

Mother Nature, according to the modern chemists is all right, but she is pretty slow when she goes through all the process of creating our food, especially our meats. A few hours of laboratory work will do what she spends years at, they firmly believe.

The recent action of Judge Harland B. Howe in permitting a New York jury to test the evidence at first hand in a liquor case has had a surprising and welcome effect on the course of justice, according to court attendants. It has reduced the number of those asking to be excused from jury duty by almost half, the saying. "Jury duty is arduous work," one of them commented, "and we can't blame men from trying to avoid it. But they certainly have increased their enthusiasm for helping to turn the wheels of justice in the last few days."

The Casino Theater was the scene of a double celebration the other evening. Not only was it the occasion of the 200th performance there of "Tangerine," but it was the thirtieth anniversary of the wedding of Richard Carle, leading comedian of the play. Mr. Carle was married in Chelsea, Mass., the home of his bride and the officiating clergyman was the Rev. Charles E. Jefferson. As it happens, the Rev. Mr. Jefferson is now pastor of the Broadway Tabernacle at Broadway and Fifty-sixth street. "We are both Broadway stars now," Carle comments.

New York City is the mother of women's swimming clubs of the whole country. In 1917, when 70 women got together here and formed a club, there was none other in the United States. Today, they exist in almost every large city, and sent six women to the Olympic games last year.

"Shuffle Along" with its troupe of colored artists—and they ARE artists—continues to be one of the gathering places of smart society. The midnight performances draw from the Social Register just as they do from the "Who's Who" of the stage. And the fashionables arrive late to the midnight show just as they would if it began at ten in the morning.

One of the interesting exhibits at this year's exhibition of the Society of Independent Artists will be the unusually fine group of Indian paintings by the younger artists of the Hopi and Zuni tribes of New Mexico. These paintings depict the ceremonial life of the Pueblo Indians and are beautiful, conceived and executed. The exhibition will be held at the Waldorf Hotel March 11 to April 2.

The silk rag rug and the weaving of it is the latest feminine fad here in Manhattan. The handmade handkerchief has been tossed aside in favor of this larger undertaking. Girls can hardly wait until their negligees or prettiest frocks are worn out, so anxious are they to tear them into rag strips. The brighter and more varied the colors are the more popular is the rug, and fortunately the fashion in colors for the past few seasons supplies plenty of gay material.

One ton of gold as cargo is sufficient to add interest to any ship coming into New York harbor, and when the Bergensford docked the other day, covered with ice, eight inches thick in places, and with that precious freight aboard it seemed as though she were hung in sparkling crystal just to live up to the occasion. It was one of the most picturesque entries I have seen in a long time, and I was glad that I happened to be in that region at that hour.

E. Mason Hopper, who has just finished the direction of "Hungry Hearts" for Goldwyn has been selected to picture "Brothers United Their Skins," from the story by Peter B. Kyne. Claire Windsor will have the principal feminine role.

CATTLE SHOW AND SALE TO BE HELD AT LOUISVILLE

Louisville Stock Yards Arranges For Cattle Show and Sale—Big Purse Is Offered.

To further the better bred livestock movement the first annual fat and feeding cattle show and sale of the Bourbon Stock Yards will be held November 23 and 24th. The entries for the show will be open to farmers and breeders of Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Georgia and Alabama only. There will be $5,000 in prizes divided into thirty-five awards with eleven rings. No entrance fee will be charged.

The fat cattle will be judged by the most competent judges that can be obtained from the buyers of the leading packing houses of the country. The stocker and feeder awards will be made by the most competent stocker and feeder buyers. The show and sale will be held on the morning of the dates given. All cattle entered in the show must be owned in the above named states by the tenth day of March this year.

As encouragement to the boys and girls clubs a special class has been added for them with prizes approximating $1,500.00. Prof. Carl W. Buckler, of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture, was in Louisville January 13th for a conference with the committee in charge of arrangements of the show. Prof. Buckler stated that he was highly gratified to know that this show was going to be held and that such liberal premiums were to be offered for the boys and girls clubs. He further stated that fifteen clubs were organized at present, and he expected to have thirty clubs entered in all. The county agents will immediately be requested to lend every assistance in organizing clubs and in aiding the members in selecting their calves.

The practical knowledge which the younger generation of breeders and feeders will derive from the actual handling of animals to be furnished for this event will be of inestimable value as a careful study of feeds and the effect thereof is made so that when these young people actually go into the handling of livestock as a business they have a firm foundation of knowledge and their feeding operations are not by guess but are based on scientific principles.

Full co-operation in patronage of the packers has been assured for the fat cattle and a large attendance of buyers from the feeding sections to take care of the stockers and feeders is expected and altogether anyone having choice animals for this show and sale will receive attractive prices as well as a chance to secure an award of some of the very liberal prizes offered.

The programs at present are in the hands of the printers and anyone desiring information should write to the Bourbon Stock Yards, Louisville, Ky.

Washington, Feb. 5.—Reports to the United States Public Health Service indicate little danger of a recurrence of an epidemic of influenza in any of the thirty-five states from which the service receives regular weekly returns, it was announced tonight. New York was the only state reporting a decided increase in influenza cases during the current week, and officials were inclined to attribute this largely to seasonal conditions which were said to have been conducive to an abnormal number of catarrhal cases.

The First Presbyterian Sunday school report a fine offering of $77 for the Near East Relief and as an appeal was made for the starving Russians it was decided to give them a part of the offering.

The Christian school had a fine attendance of 440 and the adult classes are the largest in the county. No wonder the superintendent is always wearing a smile. They also gave an offering of $20 for the starving in Russia.

The Hilldale school again leads the county. After a strong gospel message by Rev. Harmon, the evangelist of the First M. E. Church, South, an opportunity was given to those who desired to live a higher life to make it known. Over 20 stood up for prayers. The Sunday school gave an offering of $5 to the starving Russians.
